

The system allows the management of student and professor information by organizing their data and facilitating its consultation and updating. Both students and professors share common characteristics such as name and user type, enabling centralized and structured information management.