The system allows users to register books in the system's database. Each book can include information such as its title, author, year of publication, and other relevant data to facilitate its management and retrieval.